CLEMENCEAU'S ATTACK SCORED BY CONGRESS

Solon Says That Clemenceau's Letter is "Full of Misstatements and Inaccuracies"

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—As indignation over the Clemenceau attack on America spread through congressional ranks today, fear grew in official circles that the impolitic impugning of the motives of this country may pave the way for rejection of the French debt settlement by the senate.
Nothing in the storm of criticism of America that has swept over the Atlantic from Europe has aroused members of congress like the letter of the French war premier to President Coolidge.
It is certain to be used as one of the chief weapons of the opponents of the French debt settlement.
While the administration continued its silence on the letter, it was indicated that it only served to bear out the conviction of leaders that delay on the part of France and congress in approving the debt record might prove fatal.
In view of the situation in France where it is believed the debt settlement is being made a political football, it is doubtful if the United States could obtain a better settlement than the one negotiated.
At the same time, it was pointed out that it was certain that France could never hope to secure any better terms from this government. For that reason official Washington deeply regrets the incident which threw a monkey wrench into the machinery.
Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, who has fought every debt settlement, today joined with Senator Borah and Senator Ernst in denouncing the Clemenceau letter as "full of misstatements and inaccuracies" and announced that it only served to strengthen his conviction that the French settlement should be defeated because

Mexican Who Shot Ligon Is Captured

Bandit Wounded by Officer is Captured by Officers a Few Hours After the Shooting

Several hours after Patrolman S. W. Ligon had been shot in a gun battle with two Mexican bandits, police had captured the pair and placed them under arrest.
Juan Gonzales, identified by Ligon as the one who shot him, was found by officers in a room at 119 Ohio avenue with a bullet wound in his leg. He was placed under arrest and charged with attempted murder.
Filipe Gutierrez, who is said to have been hiding Gonzales, was placed under arrest by Sergeant H. Messenger and Patrolman J. Eads. Gutierrez at first refused to allow the officers to enter, saying that his wife was sleeping. When the officers entered, they found Gonzales in bed. An attempt had been made to hide him with the bed clothes.
Ligon's revolver was found under Gonzales' pillow.
Prior to Gonzales' arrest, officers placed Jesus Luna of 122 Macdonald avenue under arrest. The scene of the battle occurred in back of the rooming house where Luna lived. He was traced through the automobile records of the car in which the pair were sitting when Ligon was shot.
Gonzales was trailed by blood from his wounds, inflicted by Ligon at the time of the battle.
Mrs. Mary Poland, arrested by officers immediately after the battle and held as a material witness, was released after questioning.
Gonzales was taken to the Abbott Emergency hospital where his wounds were dressed and later removed to the Cottage hospital. Yesterday afternoon he was taken to the County hospital where he was placed under guard.
Gutierrez and Luna are being held in the city jail.
Ligon had recovered sufficiently yesterday afternoon to be removed to his home from the Cottage hospital where he had been taken after his wounds were dressed and his finger amputated at the Abbott Emergency hospital.
According to Ligon, he noticed the suspicious actions of the two Mexicans in a parked automobile back of the buildings facing on Macdonald avenue. As he approached the car, the men attempted to flee. He yelled to them to stop but instead, Gutierrez continued to flee and Gonzales turned and began firing.
Ligon and Gonzales clinched and in the struggle Gonzales got possession of Ligon's gun. He fired point blank at the officer. Two of the bullets going wild and two striking Ligon in the right arm. Ligon's index finger was severed by one of the bullets necessitating amputation. The second bullet entered the palm of his hand and came out above the wrist, fracturing a bone.
Ligon succeeded in wounding Gonzales in the right leg and neck. Despite his injuries, Gonzales fled to the house on Ohio avenue where he was later found.

"CANDY KID" PAYS PENALTY ON GALLOWS

Bandit Convicted of Killing Prison Guard Goes to His Death Statically

(By Universal Service)
MARYLAND STATE PRISON, Aug. 12.—Richard Reese Whittemore, once called "The debonair Candy Kid" bandit leader in New York and Baltimore is dead. He was hanged on the gallows of Maryland State Penitentiary shortly after midnight for the slaying of Robert H. Holtzman, a guard of the same prison in which Whittemore was executed. Whittemore was convicted of killing Holtzman during his escape from the institution more than 18 months ago.
Whittemore walked into the death chamber with a firm step and suppressed nervousness. When asked before they adjusted the hood and noose if he had anything to say, Whittemore replied: "I'll say good-bye, that's the best any man can say."
Whittemore was pronounced dead at 12:23 a. m.

BERLIN GREETED EDERLE ON HER ARRIVAL THERE

(By O. D. TOLISHUC)
(By Universal Service)
BERLIN, Aug. 12.—Sheers of thousands, car loads of flowers, an official reception committee with blaring bands, and waving German and American banners welcomed Gertrude Ederle like a conquering heroine when she came home to her "Swabian Fatherland" today.
Thousands packed the square in front of the railway station at Stuttgart when she arrived, and the city administration led by the burgomaster turned out in full force to meet the conqueror of the English channel.
Buried in bouquets she was then carried on the shoulders of admirers to a waiting automobile which took her, with Pop Ederle and sister Margaret for a visit to grandma at the Ederles' home town of Bissingen.
There, where Grandma Ederle still tills her farm, a similar reception was staged.
Gertrude has been offered enormous sums to appear here but she said she has rejected all offers and insists on appearing first in America.

Kiwan's Club Visits Oakland "Twin" Group

Fifteen members of the Kiwanis club of Richmond motored over to the Eastlake of Oakland club meeting at the Alpine Restaurant, in Fruitvale avenue, last night and broke bread with the bunch with whom they jointly were chartered into Kiwanis International a year ago.
The event of a year ago was a big event at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley, and since that occasion the Richmond and Eastlake clubs have been known as the "twins" of the California-Nevada Kiwanis district.
President Clarence Cooper, of the Eastlake club, extended a hearty and felicitous welcome to the Richmond men.
Accompanying the Kiwanians, as guest artist, was Mrs. Ross L. Calfee, who sang three charming numbers and was given a wholehearted ovation. Mrs. Calfee was accompanied on the piano by Emil Esola, pianist of the Richmond club.
Rev. Frank A. Woten, chaplain of the Richmond club and pastor of the First Christian church of Richmond, informed the audience that Mrs. Calfee is a soloist at his church, and he invited the Oaklanders to become members of his congregation and hear Mrs. Calfee every Sunday.
The presence of the best singers of the Richmond club effectively augmented the community singing.

AMBASSADOR ASKS COOLIDGE TO ACT IN MEX.

(By GEORGE W. HINMAN, Jr.)
(By Universal Service)
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 12.—Taking with him most complete data regarding relations between the United States and Mexico, Ambassador James H. Sheffield leaves tomorrow night for New York to place before President Coolidge urgent recommendations for a firm policy for the maintenance of American rights in Mexico.
The Ambassador is expected to emphasize to President Coolidge the folly of the State Department permitting the question of American rights degenerating into a legalistic discussion instead of a vigorous insistence on larger aspects involving the protection of fundamental rights as against confiscation under any guise.
The feeling here is that the case of the United States has not progressed as a result of the voluminous exchanges discussing legal technicalities, but the only advance recorded followed the blunt insistence on counter-proposals regarding confiscation.
While Ambassador Sheffield departs (Continued on page 8)

The first issue contains the pictures of forty nude and gauze-draped women, one of the objects of the magazine, it is announced, is to help people "understand the Great Enigma."

Wets Slash Tires Of Dry's Machines

(By Universal Service)
COSMOPOLIS, Wash., Aug. 12.—This little Grays Harbor lumber town expressed its hatred for federal prohibition agents in a manner which it is having occasion to regret. Dry agents from Tacoma spent a night in the local hotel, and found all tires on both their automobiles slashed to ribbons by vandals of obviously wet sentiments upon arising. Enraged, Agent E. R. Small has brought in every available dry agent from the Seattle and Tacoma areas and has conducted over a dozen liquor raids. "We're going to camp right here until we make this hard-boiled logging town as dry as the Sahara," Small fumes.

SWARMING BEES SEAL CHIMNEY

(By Universal Service)
MOUNT VERNON, Wash., Aug. 12.—Bees swarmed in the chimney of Mrs. I. C. Shraner's home here two months ago and when Mrs. Shraner lit a fire in her unused furnace today, it was found that the chimney had been sealed completely shut with honeycomb. City firemen were called when smoke filled the house. Firemen removed fifty pounds of "smoked honey" from the chimney place.

K. OF C. TO ASK INTERVENTION IN MEX. CRISIS

(By JOHN T. LAMBERT)
PAUL SMITHS, N. Y. Aug. 12.—The first formal demand for a definite break with Mexico because of the bitter contest between State and Church will be lodged with the United States government within forty-eight hours.
Acting at the suggestion of President Coolidge, the Knights of Columbus have decided to present their protest resolutions to the State Department, it became known here today.
James A. Flaherty, the supreme commander, will head the delegation from the Catholic order. They will be received by Secretary of State Kellogg in Washington probably tomorrow.
These plans, learned by Universal Service, give out to the published reports that President Coolidge was unwilling to receive the delegation of Knights. When they asked for an audience here, he, in fact, suggested that they ought to take up the matter with the State Department, first, because the records in the Mexican case are in Washington, and, secondly, because he did not wish to offend Secretary Kellogg by apparently going over his head discourteously.
Flaherty was advised to communicate with the President as to their meeting with the State Department is not conclusive.
In connection with their demand for a diplomatic break, the Knights will present such evidence as they have of alleged outrages and indignities suffered by Americans in Mexico. President Coolidge is unaware that Americans have

LICENSE TAXES

The business of tax-exacting is capable of an expansion beyond the wildest dreams of even its most earnest and successful practitioners. Indeed, there is no business of calling that could be considered as exempt. If cement block manufacturers may be "licensed," there is no reason why any form of manufacturers should be exempt from the watchful care of the council. No logical place for drawing the line can be and not beauty shops, or shoppes? This is but one found. Why, for instance, should barbers pay a fee, illustration of the difficulty of discriminating. Realtors churches, private schools, doctors, lawyers—all might be licensed. The system might conceivably be pushed so far as to make unnecessary the levying of any other taxes.

Clearly, there are great and unexhausted—even untouched—possibilities. Yet there is something to be said against these license taxes—indeed against any new taxes of any sort. The people are hoping for lower taxes, and also for less and less regulation and control by governmental and council authority. Thus far they have looked in vain in connection with local administration. Of course no tax should be imposed unless revenue is needed, and then there should be none—with a few possible exceptions—that is not of general application.

However, these considerations will have no weight with the new school of tax-exacters. Their motto seems to be to hit anything in sight—and one thing will do as well as another. We doubt whether the policy will be wisely popular or be much extended in its application. Certainly ordinances designed to carry it into effect have thus far not fared very well.—Indianapolis News.

There got by our usually vigilant eye the other morning, a bit of writing attached to a picture of Phillip Ossip, the new running star which was not only erroneous but absurd. Phillip, the story made out, is a Pima Indian. He is a Pima. Phillip's home, the story went on to say, is along the Gulf of California. It is and has been at Sacaton in southern Maricopa county. Outside of these few errors, the story about the athlete was all right.

A thing to marvel at is man, but without any intentional disrespect to his creator we believe it would be an improvement to omit all political aspirations in future models, and give him three sets of teeth.

Three more plots to murder Mussolini have been discovered. Acting as dictator of Italy must be as dangerous as making a left-hand turn during the traffic rush.

A French actress is said to have killed herself because her lover was untrue to her. Evidently the French romanticists don't follow the American custom of getting the other guy first.

BEAUTY HINTS

By Peggy Hopkins Joyce

First aid to the sunburned! How awfully painful a severe case may be! First of all, try not to break the skin. Then apply gauze, saturated with carbollated vaseline into which any of these three healing sterilizers may be worked, zinc oxide, stearate of zinc, or boric acid. Do not remove the bandage until the danger of inflammation is past.

If blisters form, prick each one with a sterilized needle and sprinkle them with finely powdered starch. In cases of this kind cover the sunburn with gauze containing only the carbollated vaseline.

HANDLE WITH CARE

Miss Flapper, how about your old husband? (If you capture one). If you bought him with youth and beauty you paid the supremacy of value. No other coin in the matrimonial market will ever displace this. Yours is a tie-up between acceleration and speed, and reliability and endurance. Every one says it. Experience proves it. If you are going to drive Life's Roadway together without "bucking" free from annoyance, resiliency over rough roads, with steady power for steepest hills, then throttle your rearing, youthful propensities. Old-age-and-youth marriages require careful driving. In this matter-of-fact world, common sense is the rarest and smartest article of the day. Marriage is a 50-50 contract. Expect all men at times to make agonizing lapses. Are you creamy perfection? PROVERB: Husband twice as old as wife. Argues ill for married life.

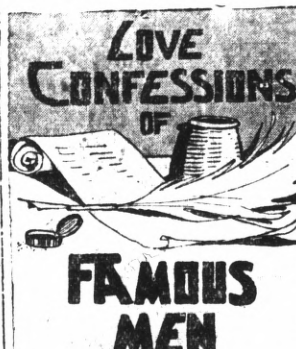

TOM SHARKEY

Vaudeville boards are graced this summer with the presence of Tom Sharkey, one of the most celebrated of heavyweights. Before the calf to the sage with his old time rival, Jefferies. Tom was a race track helper at Tia Juana. It is only in these recent days that famous athletes, when they retire, do so with a wide margin in the bank and at idyllic bundle of real estate holdings.

But formerly the Benny Leonards and the Jack Dempseys were no financial wizards; their purses were not so big that they developed into prominent financiers, and so when Tom Sharkey, adored idol of ring fans of other days, retired it was not to live on the coupons he clipped from his bonds. That was why he loitered in Tia Juana. The entrance into the theater with the former champion ought to inflate the Sharkey purse somewhat however.

WHITMAN'S PLATONIC LOVE

Walt Whitman, the poet of American democracy, never married. It is said on good authority that in his young days he had contracted a love relationship with a southern society belle and the memory of this prevented any other woman from gaining the same access to his heart.

There was, however, an English woman writer, Anne Gilchrist, who came very near to possessing him in love. Mrs. Gilchrist had read a copy of Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" and was so overpowered by the poems that she entered into a correspondence with their author. This correspondence developed into an intimate friendship. Mrs. Gilchrist came to America and lived for some time near the poet. From what the world knows their friendship was purely a platonic one but from the letter written by Mrs. Gilchrist to Whitman from England, quoted below, it will be understood that it would have been otherwise had she been able to have her own way in the matter.

THE MOTHER OF MARIE DRESSLER

Marie Dressler is one of the best known and best-loved comedienne on the American stage. Lately she has been making fewer appearances and no doubt will shortly retire altogether. Miss Dressler inherited her talents from her mother, and it was her mother who gave her her first training for the stage.

She says: "Although my mother never acted she possessed a keen dramatic sense. I remember her arrangement of living pictures as the loveliest I have ever seen. She was invariably displaying these and my first appearance on the stage was as cupid, in an affair for a church benefit.

"Despite the chronic poverty of my family mother managed to keep us in the right atmosphere, always seeing that father, who was a musician, played the church organ without compensation, and by working indefatigably herself for all the charities. She gave me my first insight into the fact that as long as I did things for nothing I could get into society."

Miss Dressler's father was a musician and teacher of music and what the comedienne means was that her mother, by persuading him to play at churches and charitable affairs for nothing, created much good will in the community where they happened to be and so attracted music pupils. This gentle diplomacy worked well.

6th of September and would fain know whether it has reached your hand. If it has not I will write its contents again quickly to you with courage and with patience for an answer, but spare me the needless suffering of uncertainty on this point and let me have one line, one word of assurance that I am no longer hidden from you by a thick cloud—I from thee and thou from me. For I have never set eyes upon thee. All the Atlantic flowing between us, yet cleave closer than those that stand nearest around thee—day and night—last thoughts, first thought, my soul's passionate yearning towards my divine soul, every hour, every deed and every thought—my love for my children, my hopes, my aspirations for them, all taking new shape, new heights, through this great love. My soul has staked all upon it. In dull, dark moods when I cannot, as it were, see thee, still, still I always a dumb, blind yearning towards thee still it comforts me to touch, to press to me the beloved books like a child holding some hand in the darkness it knows not whose but knows its enough knows it is dear, strong comforting hand.

"Do not say I am forward, or that I lack pride because I tell this love to thee who never have sought or made a sign of desiring to seek me. Oh, for all that, this love is my pride, my glory."

Whitman at first replied to her impassioned notes in this fashion: "Dear friend, let me warn you somewhat about myself, and yourself also: you must not construct such an unauthorized and imaginary ideal figure and call it W. W. and so devotedly invest your loving nature in it. The actual W. W. is a very plain personage and entirely unworthy of such devotion."

JACK HOLT AND RAY HATTON AT THE CALIFORNIA

Raymond Hatton, whose comedy team work with Wallace Berry, in "Behind the Front," is still a laughing memory, furnishes many new laughs in "Born to the West," Paramount's picture of Zane Grey's story, which comes to the California Theatre for an engagement of two days, starting today.

This time the little comedian teamed with Jack Holt, Hatton brave only when his pal, Jack Holt, "Colorado" Ludd, is at his elbow, seems to wobble in and out of trouble in scenes, however, all through the picture.

"Born to the West" brings Jack Holt to the screen in one of his best roles to date. Margaret Morris and Arlette Marchal, representative American and French beauties, furnish the pulchritude and drama, the former as the childhood sweetheart of Holt and Miss Marchal as a dancehall girl. Paramount has provided a most brilliant supporting cast which includes George Siegman, Tom Kennedy, Richard Neill and Edith Yorke.

There are no dull moments and thrills abound. They include novel gun-play, a horse and rider jumping cliffs to escape pursuers and heart stopping scenes with a runaway coach.

John Waters directed. Other features on the same program include "Dancing Daddy," a Jack Duffy comedy; "Ko Ko Packs Up," a cartoon comedy; "International News" and Larry Canelo at the organ.

and the French people to reject the debt settlement with the United States. That will lead to further misfortune for France.

"The letter is full of inaccuracies and misstatements, some of them being misstatements regarding M. Clemenceau's own act and it can only be attributed to the infirmities of old age. M. Clemenceau's memory must be practically gone. It is really pathetic."

Referring to Clemenceau's statement: "You are claiming the payment of a debt, not of commerce, but of war," McKellar pointed out that France borrowed $1,300,000,000 after the war at five percent interest and that Clemenceau himself sanctioned the debt. He added that the pre-war debt of France had been cancelled under the settlement and that interest had been reduced on the post-war debt.

McKellar assailed Clemenceau's assertion that the French treasury was empty and declared that if it was empty it was because France would not tax her people "as we do in the United States," He added:

"If Clemenceau was endeavoring to have all debts, including that of Germany to France, cancelled, we might have some respect for the suggestion. But while France is demanding the last penny from Germany she is seeking every plausible excuse to repudiate her own debts."

GIVE WARNING TO INVESTORS OF CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12.—Warning to California investors that swindlers are raising stock certificates was issued today by Edwin M. Daugherty, commissioner of corporations, following receipt of news of the frauds from the New York Stock Exchange and the Better Business Bureau of New York City.

Investors were cautioned by Commissioner Daugherty to examine carefully all stock certificates purchased from other than authorized stock brokers, as hundreds of persons have been victimized through the new swindling practice.

The swindlers, according to the warning, are raising the certificates of well known and established companies, listed on the New York Stock Exchange, by purchasing a certificate for one share and raising the number on the certificate to larger figures. Already more than 70 certificates of eleven leading industrial corporations have been discovered raised.

Commissioner Daugherty pointed out that the alterations can be discovered through close examinations on the right hand side of the certificates where larger numbers are pasted in to replace the original figures punched out, the altered figures being held in place by sales tax stamps attached to the reverse side. Investors discovering raised certificates are requested to notify the secretary of the New York Stock Exchange.

BUILDING PERMITS

Three building permits issued yesterday by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley amounted to $1,375.

P. Pecchino was issued a permit to build a two-room addition to his cottage on the north side of Twenty-first street between Cutting boulevard and Will avenue. The addition will cost $1,200 and M. Perico is the contractor.

Dominico Brasco secured a permit to construct a two-car garage on the north side of Bissell avenue between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, costing $75.

William Dickhoff was issued a permit to build a rear porch addition to a cottage on the west side of Tenth street between Pennsylvania and Lucas avenues to cost $100.

It was too silent.

"M. Clemenceau's letter is peculiarly unfortunate for France," declared McKellar. "It is really a plea to the French government repudiates her honest debts. Surely the patriotic statesmen of France will give no heed to suggestions of Clemenceau, because in the end, they would prove the undoing of their great nation."

SWEET DADDIES IS COMEDY AT THE RICHMOND

One of the most exciting scenes in "Sweet Daddies," the second attraction at the Richmond Theatre here, shows Jack Mulhall, popular screen star, dropping two thousand feet in a flaming airplane into the ocean. The damaged plane is then run down by a speedy yacht.

Neither Mulhall nor his pilot were injured in this episode, although their risk was considerable. "Sweet Daddies" features Charlie Murray, George Sydney and Vera Gordon. It is a brisk comedy of mixed partnership, mixed romances and mixed drinks. Alfred A. Santell, who is remembered for his "Classified," and "Bluebeard's Seven Wives," directed.

The story briefly is that of Pat O'Brien, a thespian who indulges excessively in spirits, celebrating prematurely his son's graduation from college. The celebration, or the spirits, take effect during his act on the vaudeville stage and he breaks up the show. He is given notice and simultaneously is informed that his graduate son is in jail. The jail is the Jail Cafe. In this novel cafe Jimmy O'Brien meets the girl, played by Jobyna Ralston. Pat joins hands with Abbie Finklebaum in a huge import enterprise, while Maama Finklebaum, played by Vera Gordon, seeks to foist her choice of husband on her daughter who has eyes for no one but Jimmy, wavy haired son of Erin.

The airplane accident occurs when Jimmy seeks to forward his father and his partner that prohibition agents are after them. The plane is shot down by Federal

$10,000,000 BODY PLANT TURNS OUT BODIES FOR NEW ESSEX AUTOMOBILES

DETROIT, Aug. 12.—Any story of the new Essex all steel coach is fundamentally the story of the $10,000,000 body factory which produces the car. What the Hudson Car company has done in the manufacture of Essex bodies is to make craftsmen of machines; this is literally the fact. Giant machines do in a fraction of a minute work that the most highly skilled artisan, craftsman or artist could never hope to equal, from the standpoints of beauty and accuracy. The plant devoted to making the bodies expresses the industry's top mark in design and execution.

"Hand work" has long been a symbol of excellence of manufacture. Pains-taking labor, directed by trained craft, has resulted in closest fit and smoothest finish. But "machine work" supplants it when the machine is designed and executed so as to perform quickly and surely operations that far excel the best of the hand craft.

Essentially, the Essex body plant is an aggregation of pressing and stamping machines. Upon them are formed the component parts of the body, which are so accurately made that they fit without question. Their union into a rigid whole is accomplished with a speed and uniformity almost beyond belief. A cowl, a door, or the corner of a body is fashioned on a giant press. The whole cowl is brought into being with one apparently effortless motion of a press that is exerting a force of 400 tons every time its plunger descends. The machine and the dies may represent $100,000 worth of ability to manufacture with speed and exactness—an investment made with the certainty that the completed plant would function with greatest precision and the highest attainable speed.

The Hudson officials say that the plant is unique in being the largest bodybuilding unit in the industry, without a single body builder employed in it. Strictly speaking, and using the word in the sense in which it is usually accepted, perhaps there are no human body-builders. But the machines certainly are body-builders in every sense of the word.

For the first time in the history of American industry, body building has been made primarily a series of steel-stamping processes; for the first time, too, the bodies are being made on a 100 percent progressive assembly system, already employed to such advantage in the manufacture of engines and chassis. Everything in connection with the plant and the other means of making bodies complete was laid out a year ago. On top of the $10,000,000 in the plant proper, an investment of $5,000,000 was made in bringing other departments to a capacity that would measure up to that of the new unit. The plant and the expansions were completed on schedule time, and on the precise day originally determined, a schedule of the new all-steel bodies, to the number of 150, were put through.

OPEN HIGHWAYS OVER IMPERIAL SAND HILLS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 11.—Opening to traffic of seven miles of new pavement, 20 feet in width, across the famous Sand Hills between El Centro and Yuma, in eastern Imperial county, was announced today by State Highway Engineer R. M. Morton. The new section of highway eliminates an eight foot plank road on one of California's important interstate connections, Morton explained.

The old plank road across the Imperial sand dunes was the first passable highway for automobiles between the Imperial Valley and Yuma, located entirely within American territory. It was built in 1916, largely by public subscription, and later was taken over and maintained by the State Highway commission.

A heavy increase of traffic during recent years has overwhelmed the narrow road and in some places all but demolished it. The seven miles of new asphalt concrete pavement is the result of many months of study of conditions on the desert, where many engineers believed building of a pavement was impossible.

The project has been approved for federal aid and has been described by road builders as one of the most daring and spectacular highway paving projects in America.

Division VIII of the California highway organization, with headquarters in San Bernardino, has had immediate charge of the work. Oiling of shoulders and slopes of hills will be under way for several weeks, but the plank road has been finally abandoned.

NEW HUDSON MODELS WITH REFINEMENTS DISPLAYED HERE BY THOMAS MOTOR CO.

With a more colorful appearance, the new all-steel coach which is inherently balanced to prevent vibration. The general idea of anti-vibration devices, even the newer ones, is to dampen out the effects of vibration, rather than to prevent it before it starts, as is the Hudson idea.

Under this arrangement, the standard line of Hudson cars consists of but three models; all enclosed. They are the coach, now of all-steel construction, and the brougham and sedan. It is understood that Hudson is still building open cars for the export market, and that they can be had on order. But the short list of cars now announced is in line with the Hudson-Essex policy of specializing on enclosed cars of obtaining highly economical manufacture through limiting efforts to those cars which have a broad popularity.

IMPROVEMENTS TOLD

"In addition to the cars being more beautiful," said Thomas, the motor has had some slight changes which result in a better standard of gasoline consumption than we have had for the past few seasons. These alterations are in the manifold, and so improve the distribution of fuel to the cylinders that all the pickup and power of the Super-Six is retained while the mileage of gasoline is substantially improved.

ECONOMICAL CAR

"We are now prepared to show buyers that the Hudson is an exceedingly economical car to operate. We feel that it is unmatched in any automobile which can approach its general standard of performance. The Super-Six motor has been under development for nearly 11 years now, and it is interesting to note that it has had from the start many features which are just now being generally adopted and announced on other cars. Its patented Super-Six crankshaft re-

ALL STEEL COACH

"The new all-steel coach is a remarkable development of the coach idea. The body itself is literally "as rigid as a steel building," while the color combination outside and the upholstery inside is particularly attractive. Mounted on the Super-Six chassis, it provides an unusual impression of stability and safety under all riding conditions.

"The brougham and sedan are built of aluminum sheets over a frame of selected hardwood. This is in line with the Hudson policy of several years standing. The color combinations are handsome, while the interiors are more roomy, comfortable and rich in appearance.

"We feel that this is the handiwork of cars Hudson has ever presented, and that with the better bodies on an improved and time-tested chassis, the line is certain to meet with a wide approval."

The Super-Six Greatly Improved in Chassis and New Bodies

These beautiful new Hudsons—the Sedan, Brougham and the Coach—overshadow all the great Super-Sixes of the past. New bodies—new colors—new beauty, performance and comfort.

Each is more striking and distinctive in appearance. Each is a triumph of body quality, comfort and price advantage. Each is mechanically at the height of its value and reliability.

For more than 11 years the patented Super-Six principle has given outstanding performance and reliability to over 850,000 owners.

This long experience and vast production have brought about not only a much finer car in every particular, but also have resulted in economies of manufacture and distribution that give amazing price and value.

These new Hudsons are commanding a greater attention than any preceding model because they far excel any previous achievement of our history.

Many of the advantages you will recognize at a glance. But you will have a higher appreciation of their meaning when you know that a plant of 18 acres which, with equipment, approximated a cost of $10,000,000, was first built and that special machinery had to be designed, to make possible this New Coach now on display.

Again Essex "6" offers in the design and construction of the New Coach as radical an improvement as was the original Coach itself.

It is all steel, bolted and riveted, and so rigid that squeaks, rattles and distortions, are as unlikely as in a steel building. Doors are so hung that a man may hang on an open door while the car is being driven over rough roads, without springing it out of true. And it is so designed and constructed as to permit the use in a totally new manner of a high baked enamel, most lustrous and lasting finish. This has made possible new combinations in finish that will please your eye.

There has been constant improvement in the chassis from the first Essex shipped. Every week has seen some betterment. But only by the accumulation of the resources, the information, experience, and the skill that have resulted from the purchase of 350,000 Essex "Sixes" in a short period of time, was it possible to erect the plants, to perfect the machinery, to create the designs that have resulted in this car which we ask you to inspect and to drive as the best looking, best value, best Essex ever built.

BARREL HOUSE WALLOPS ALL STANDARDS; 15 TO 4

BARREL HOUSE PILES UP 14 HITS IN GAME

Wetzell Makes His First Appearance as Pitcher and Goes Good

The situation in Mexico might be bad, and the situation in Persia might be twice as bad, but just between you and the typewriter there could have been a situation as bad as last night's game at the first street field when the Barrel House defeated the All Standards by a score of 15 to 4.

There was slaughter, killings and what not, reminding one of bull fights in Spain. Blood, and gore splattered the field, strong men fainted and women were carried out on stretchers, overcome by the pitiful scene unrolled.

The only thing that can be said about the whole rumpus is that Kid Wetzell pitched a beautiful brand of ball for the Barrel House and Gaby Jensen tried his best, with wonderful success, to throw Todd Murray out of the league as the leading clown.

Wetzell has been sticking around in the outergarden and infield all year and last night was the first chance he got to show his stuff, and we'll tell you, buddy, he sure shook a wicked arm. Floaters, spit balls, all brands kept the All Standards in a daze and up to the fourth inning not a hit, not one single did they get off of Wetzell. Manager Rod Allen sat on the bench and growled.

In the case of Jensen he kept the crowd and the players in an uproar with his cries. Kidding 'em along was his main point and holding on to 'em was his second, and both things he did with good success.

To get down to the slaughter, Kress was the "darkhaired villain" for the Barrel House. Five times at bat he cracked forth a triple, a single, a home run, and a double. That of course was not so bad.

Wetzell, Kress and Buttisch made the home runs of the game and helped pile up the score.

But why go into the horrible details? The box score:

BOARD VOTES TWO TO ONE FOR LICENSE

(By Universal Service)

By ROBERT A. HEREFORD
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The merry game of pugilistic hide-and-seek and official buck-passing went gaily on today when the New York State Athletic commission at a specially called meeting voted two to one in favor of a resolution urging the New York State License committee to grant Jack Dempsey a license for a heavyweight title fight. The license body meets next Monday.

The resolution, which was proposed by Commissioner Brower, stated that as Jack Dempsey had agreed to meet Gene Tunney, and that as he was also in good standing, that the license committee should be urged at once to grant him a license.

Commissioner William Muldoon and Commissioner Brower voted for the resolution while Chairman James A. Farley, registered his usual veto.

Brower and Muldoon had invited the two colonels of the license committee, Phelan and Wear to be present today in hopes of clearing up the entire matter.

Neither appeared however and Colonel Wear addressed a curt telegram of refusal to Brower.

"I deeply regret," it read "that you did not have the public's interest in mind previous to your wire of today, and I could not, under any condition, so far forget my self respect by meeting with the license commission."

Dempsey, believing that the boxing commission's action in declaring him a boxer in good standing had assured him of the Tunney match left at one o'clock this afternoon for Albany on his way to the White Sulphur Springs training camp.

The big city has seen the last of him, the champion declared, until shortly before the September bout, unless he is summoned by the commissioners.

Rickard was jubilant. "I am going right on with all of my plans for the fight just as though the license had been granted," the promoter said. "I am getting out my tickets now."

The large audience of pugilistic notables gathered in the hall outside the boxing commission offices just missed the treat of seeing the champion in a little warming up act.

Paddy Mullins, Harry Wills manager, who called at the commission offices to ask once more that Dempsey be forced to fight Wills came face to face with the champion.

"Hello, Paddy, how are you," said Dempsey, extending his hand. "Acting as if he didn't see the hand, Mullins asked Belligerently "why didn't you stick by your agreement?"

"I did as long as I could," was Dempsey's mild reply.

"I have a telegram here proving that you are a liar," said Mullins.

The champions hands twitched. "If you weren't an old man," he said thickly.

"Never mind my age," Mullins Barker, "come along into this room here."

MISS BROWNE AND TILDEN ARE VICTORS

(By Universal Service)

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 12.—Seven leading national tennis figures, one in the men's division and the others in the women's easily won their way into the final round of their respective tournaments, here today.

A torrent of rain halted play before the full program for the day was completed.

W. T. Tilden 2nd, of Philadelphia, filled one of the final brackets of the Southern New York tennis tournament. The champion's newest victim was Brian I. C. Norton, the internationalist, who despite his brilliant back hand drive could get but four games in the two sets, Tilden winning 6-1, 6-3.

Miss Mary K. Brown of Santa Monica, California, sixth ranking player of the country and captain of the Weightman Cup Team, gained the final of the New York State championship by defeating Mrs. Clifford Lockhorn, the holder of the Connecticut State championship, 6-1, 6-1.

Miss Wills, the women's national champion was winning her way easily into the semi-finals against Mrs. Helen Pollack Falk taking the first set 6-0, and leading in the second 2-2, when rain interfered.

Prior to his match with Tilden, Brian Norton had scored the first big upset of the tournament eliminating Cranston Holman of California, 6-2, 7-5. Alfred Chapin strengthened his argument for first honors by turning back Louis Thalheimer, of Texas, 5-7, 7-5, 6-4. Vincent Richards won his way into the fourth round by defeating Nathaniel W. Niles, 6-0, 6-1.

SO. PACIFIC CO. ISSUES TABLES FOR MOTORISTS

A quantity of pocket time tables of the automobile and vehicle ferry service of the Southern Pacific company are available for anyone who calls at the Richmond Chamber of Commerce.

They are just off the press and contain all the information that the motorists wish.

One folder—which just fits the vest pocket—contains a splendid road map of the immediate bay counties with the towns, ferries and highways clearly marked.

This time table also contains the schedule of the San Francisco-Alameda ferry which has just been instituted by the Southern Pacific.

A smaller time table gives complete information about the Richmond-San Francisco auto and passenger ferry.

Incidentally Richmond is brought within forty minutes of San Francisco through the operation of this ferry. A bus service operated by the Key System Transit company connects with each outgoing and incoming ferryboat.

abused as the result of the religious strife. It is understood here that the State Department is also without knowledge of any such events.

So far as instituting a break with Mexico is concerned, the visit of the Knights to Kellogg will be fruitless. President Coolidge announced the government's viewpoint at Plymouth, Vermont, last week. It is this, he rewards the religious conflict as entirely an internal matter in which foreign governments could not legally intervene.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover will arrive at White Pine Camp tomorrow to discuss a number of important matters with the president. They include business conditions, radio-control plans, protection of American rubber consumers against the British rubber combine and development of Commercial aviation.

more, his pretty young wife, come to bid him farewell.

With trembling voice he said to her:

"Don't worry, Chickie. My last thought will be of you. You've been wonderful to me and while God knows it isn't easy to die it is easier when I think of how you've stuck to me to the end."

Fainting, her friends took her away. There was another who stood mute with suffering before the cell of Whittemore. It was his father, Rawling V. Whittemore, who has also fought to the last to save the young bandit from the gallows.

Three others were allowed to visit Whittemore in the hour granted him to say farewell to those nearest him. They were:

Mrs. Theresa Messler, Mrs. Whittemore's aged mother and Mr. and Mrs. Rawling V. Whittemore, Jr.

Mrs. Whittemore's eyes were red from a day of weeping as she entered the jail. Police guards held back the mob gathered to catch a glimpse of her. She hesitated and was near fainting as she stepped through the heavy iron door of the penitentiary.

The greatest desire of her life was to be allowed to kiss her husband good-bye—was denied her. She pressed passionately against the screen and said:

"Dick, I love you and you're going to die to-night."

Her voice mounted to a frenzy and she wrung her hands.

"What shall I do? I don't want to live without you. Oh I can't leave you."

During the brief and tragic hours the crowd without the jail had increased to several hundred persons. There was a sudden hush as Mrs. Whittemore appeared in a semi-conscious condition, led blindly by her father-in-law, and the bandit's brother.

As the hands of the clock crept toward the midnight hour, his wife, alternately praying and walking the floor in despair, stayed in her mother's home. Whittemore's father stayed with her for he alone knows the torture which she felt.

Early in the morning after a sleepless night Mrs. Whittemore went to church to pray that a reprieve might come as a miracle. Little hoped for. She is confident that she will see Whittemore again for today, in a simple pink gingham dress she stood at the door of her home and said:

"Dick has repented and is going to Heaven, he has done terrible wrongs, I know, but God has forgiven him. I know he'll be waiting for me in Heaven."

When news that the lawyer's final gesture had failed was carried to her home, Mrs. Whittemore collapsed and was put to bed by her mother. An hour later she was up sitting tensely by the window waiting for the minute to come when she could leave the house to visit the great gray penitentiary.

News of the failure to secure a stay of execution was received calmly by the bandit. He sat smoking and reading a detective magazine when a guard told him. He looked up and said:

"All right, I didn't expect it to go through."

The only tears that Whittemore shed were those as he parted with his wife.

Mrs. Whittemore has refused to buy mourning clothes and there were gay little touches of color to her simple dark costume which she wore to the penitentiary today.

The fight has gone from her and only grief is in her heart. She is young and she is pretty and life may hold much for her, but she says:

"My heart goes in the grave prepared for the body of my husband."

Ambassador Asks Coolidge To Act In Mexico

parts for his vacation with every intention of returning to Mexico and retaining his post, the failure of President Coolidge to give the fullest support to his views would be regarded here as likely to create a situation in which the Ambassador would be unwilling to continue in the post.

In such a case it is expected that the Ambassador would return to Mexico City to resign shortly thereafter.

The problems include not only the alien land and petroleum laws, but also the regulations covering colonization, irrigation, mining and forestry, and a vigorous protest against the administrative order of June 8 by secretary of industry, commerce and labor Morones, requiring oil companies applying for drilling permits to file unlimited bonds.

The colonization and irrigation regulations are both regarded as threatening practical confiscation along the lines of the Agrarian law, and resulted in a protest. Mining and forestry regulations are still being studied in the belief that they may operate retroactively against American interests acquired before the constitution of 1917.

The order of June 8 is regarded as particularly inimical to American interests, placing oil holdings completely at the mercy of the administrative authorities. Hope is felt that the vigorous protests of the embassy will result in modification.

The order demands that oil companies file unlimited bonds before making request for drilling permits. If the permit is not granted the company is liable to the government for the value of all oil previously extracted, and if the liability is not paid the bond is declared forfeited. Acceptance of a permit implies acceptance of all provisions, thus setting up the administrative department as a court of last resort in passing on the validity of property rights.

The Foreign Office today recommended foreign property owners of the necessity to register their holdings in compliance with the regulations the registration must cover lands acquired in the prohibited zone before 1917, participation in Mexican corporations holding lands, or subsoil or water rights; and participation in Mexican agricultural enterprises in which more than half the capital is foreign owned.

Ambassador Sheffield began his round of farewell calls before starting for Vera Cruz from where he sails Saturday on the steamer Monterey which is due in New York on August 21.

GEN. ANDREWS WILL FORM NEW PROH DIVISION

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury, announced today that a special division of the prohibition department will be formed at once to direct the application of the agreement between the United States and England to stop the smuggling of liquor.

Gen. Andrews, who arrived last night from England, conferred today with prohibition officials here. He left tonight for Washington.

"My first work in Washington will be to build up the machinery that will put into practical effect the compact we now have with Canada, Cuba, Mexico and the European countries and especially our new agreement with Great Britain," he said. "I plan to establish a new bureau of foreign control which will have active supervision of this work."

He explained that the special agreement with England was necessary because most of the liquor smuggling is carried on under the British flag.

Eagles Favor Modifying the Dry Ordinance

(By Universal Service)

SEATTLE, Aug. 12.—The Fraternal Order of Eagles, meeting in National Convention here with 10,000 delegates present, has become a "wet" order, delegates declare. A straw ballot showed an overwhelming majority of delegates in favor of modifying the Volstead Act. It was announced today. However there is no liquor in evidence at the convention, as the Grand Aerie administration has announced its policy of rigidly upholding the prohibition law and officers frowned upon wet goods.

County Registrations Exceed 25,000 Mark

The largest registration reported in Contra Costa county was reported by County Clerk J. H. Wells yesterday with 25,096 men and women registered and qualified to vote. In the primary election on August 31. This number registered indicates a population of Contra Costa county of close to 100,000 persons.

Under average conditions officials estimate population at a basis of three to one on the registration figures on account of the cosmopolitan population of this county and the large number of foreign residents many of whom have large families.

Controlling Expenses—

If expenditures could be kept under absolute control, it would not be difficult to save money. But not everyone can create a monthly margin of safety between income and outgo.
